Ad Wolgast, who "retired" from the ring last week, now says he wants some ten-round fights. Some young boxer will retire Ad with a bunch of jabs and jolts if the Cadillac boy isn't careful.

Grover Hayes shaded Tommy Carey in six rounds at Philadelphia. The veteran lightweight had all the best of the encounter.

Giants Tomorrow for Final Series— Sox Tie Macks.

The well-known city of Peru, where the Cubs pastimed yesterday, a heavy sufferer in the disastrous Ohio flood last spring, is luckier than was at first believed. According to a much-traveled correspondent on the Record-Herald the city was swept from the state of Indiana into Illinois.

His account of the struggle yesterday is dated Peru, Ill.

Evers brought his mixture of recruits and regulars back from the wilds in good condition. Watson and Moore did the pitching, so they will be kept on the sidelines for the next few days. Brooklyn closes on the West Side this afternoon, and then come the New York Giants.

The Cubs are through, but the old rivalry with the Giants still obtains, and Evers is anxious to cop at least two games out of three from the Giants. Such a feat would practically insure retention of third place by the locals. There will be no let-up because the Cubs are out of the race.

Cy Williams, the elongated utility outfielder and pinch hitter of the Cubs, is practically sure of being re-
